White Hassle (named after the American fast food chain, White Castle), is a NYC band consisting of Marcellus Hall and Dave Varenka, both of the band Railroad Jerk, and new member Matt Oliverio. Hall plays harmonica and guitar and sings. Varenka plays drums, metal percussion (including pots and pans) and sings harmony. And Oliverio plays guitar. The band formed in 1996 and has performed countless times in NYC and around the world to critical acclaim.

WH

released a full-length LP on Matador Records (1997) and a single on Super 8 Records (1997). WH has recorded for John Peel's BBC radio program in London (1998). The band has toured Europe via train (1998) and half of the U.S. (1998).

has recently finished recording these new songs for "Life is Still Sweet", the CD-EP on Orange Recordings (or004), and will release a limited edition CD collection of outtakes and rarities for Insound.com later this year.

WH

has been playing with various guests at its live shows, notably DJ Atsushi on turntables, Meredith Yayanos and Josh Diamond on violin, and Ali Smith (of Speedball Baby) and Lily Wolf (of Valentine Six) singing background vocals.

WH

has played with Pavement, Jonathan Fire*Eater, They Might Be Giants, Delta 72, Skeleton Key, The Melvins, Speedball Baby, Chavez, Rex, Hasil Adkins, The Chrome Cranks, Cat Power, Come, Fuck, Cash Money (Cash Audio), The Country Teasers, and Boss Hog.

WH

Their blend of rural country blues, 70's pop, 50's pop (Everly Bros.), and skiffle punk (Violent Femmes) is the stuff of genius.
